Daniel Shepardson Jr. Dies in Far Off Sandwich Islands

A BRILLIANT PULPIT ORATOR

CABLE SAYS DEATH WAS CAUSED BY TYPHOID MALARIA

Dr. Shepardson's Recent Letters to Advocate From Honolulu Were Read With Interest

A brief cablegram from Honolulu, Hawaii, 2500 miles west of San Francisco, received here Saturday evening by Mrs. Ross Smith, told of the sad and wholly unexpected death of her son-in-law, Dr. Daniel Shepardson, Jr., well known not only in Newark and Granville, but throughout the whole country as the "Wheel Chair Evangelist."

The message was a severe shock to Dr. Shepardson's hundreds of warm friends both here and in Granville as they did not know that he had been ill. The message which came from Mrs. Shepardson said that the doctor had died Saturday morning from typhoid malaria. The remains will leave Honolulu Tuesday and will arrive here in the second week in December.

Dr. Daniel Shepardson, Jr., was born at Granville, O., on December 1, 1868. He was the third son of the late Rev. Daniel Shepardson D. D., founder of and for eighteen years president of the Young Ladies Institute at Granville, now called "The Shepardson college" in honor of Dr. Shepardson; it being the only school for young women endowed and supported by the Baptists of Ohio. His eldest brother is Prof. F. W. Shepardson, Ph. D., (Yale) of the University of Chicago. His second brother is Prof. Geo. D. Shepardson M. E. (Cornell) in charge of the department of Electrical Engineering in the University of Minnesota. Mrs. Shepardson, his mother, is now in the east, having recently left Granville for the winter.

After the usual years in the public schools and three years in Granville Academy, Mr. Shepardson completed the full classic course in Dennison university in 1888. Then followed three years of post-graduate work at Yale University, New Haven, Conn., during which special studies in Biblical literature and Philosophy were pursued and the degree of Ph. D. was won. Then followed some months of travel in Europe. Then two years of theological study at Morgan Park and at the University of Chicago. Meantime, in 1890, Mr. Shepardson was instructor in Hebrew, English Bible, and Arabic in the American Institute of Sacred Literature; was licensed to preach the gospel in 1891 by Calvary Baptist church, New Haven, Conn.; in 1892, he was assistant pastor at Memorial Baptist church in Chicago, Ill.; in 1893, he was assistant pastor to Dr. P. S. Hendon and superintendent of the Sunday school of the First Baptist church in Chicago during 1892 and '93, and lecturer on O. T. prophecy at the Baptist Missionary Training School.

In February, 1893, Dr. Shepardson was paralyzed while in the midst of a large and blessed work. In July 1895, he began to preach in a wheel chair, and after some months, in September 1895, in the First Baptist church of Chicago, was ordained to the gospel ministry. It was in this year that he was married to Miss Mary Smith of Newark, whom he had known for a long time, and who has since shared his work and his life.

After several weeks of teaching languages in an Illinois college, Dr. Shepardson acted for several months as pastor pro tem of Central Baptist church of Minneapolis, and then supplied the First Church of Duluth for two months. During the past few years he had been devoting himself entirely to special services and Bible studies. During the summer months Dr. Shepardson gave Bible lectures at various Summer Assemblies in Ohio, Indiana and Michigan. During the first part of his trip to Honolulu, the doctor wrote two interesting and instructive letters describing his trip and the conditions existing there, which appeared in the Advocate recently. He had promised a series of letters when he left Newark and the Advocate recently announced that the third letter of the series would soon appear.

Dr. Shepardson was widely known in this city, he and his wife having made their home with Mrs. Shepardson's mother, Mrs. Smith of 157 North

Fifth street, during the summer months. He was greatly respected for his wonderful power and strength of character, and every person who had the pleasure of even hearing him speak could not help feeling that he or she was made better and stronger by having the presence of so great and good a man as was Dr. Daniel Shepardson. Frequently he preached from Newark pulpits and at the Y. M. C. A. Brilliant, personally attractive and always interesting either in the pulpit or in private conversation, Dr. Shepardson had a wide circle of friends. Though sorely afflicted, Dr. Shepardson was one of the most cheerful of men and he was also one of the busiest. He found time to write two books that received much favorable comment and was at work on a third when death touched him.

VERY MYSTERIOUS AFFAIR

Is the Injury of One J. H. McDowell Who Was Spirited Away from Hospital After Serious Injury Was Attended To—Effort Being Made to Keep Facts Under Cover.

Another mysterious affair in which J. H. McDowell of this city received probably fatal injuries, occurred on Sunday morning in Walnut street in the saloon owned by George Fessler. A big effort is being made by the interested parties to "go under cover" with the facts in the case, and the police profess to know but little of the particulars.

The only facts that are obtainable are these. McDowell was injured in some manner in the Fessler saloon. He left the place and went to Dr. Hornby's office opposite the High school building, but could not find the doctor. He then reached Dr. H. P. Cosner's office, further west on Main street and sank exhausted from loss of blood. Dr. Cosner, who was visiting a patient, was hurriedly summoned and found the man in a dangerous condition.

A hurry call was sent for the ambulance and the operating room at the City Hospital was hurriedly prepared for an emergency case. The victim was placed on the operating table and his wounds dressed. A few hours later McDowell was removed from the hospital and spirited away to the east end of the city, where he is still in a serious condition.

Several stories are afloat as to how the man was injured. One of them and the most plausible one is that he engaged in an encounter in the saloon. It is said that two habitués of the place were fighting and that McDowell attempted to act as a peacemaker, and that both the other men jumped on him and gave him a terrific beating. During the fracas McDowell was struck with a beer glass or a bottle. The blow landed fairly on the point of the chin, breaking the glass and allowing a piece of it to enter his throat. An artery under his chin was severed and the man nearly bled to death.

The proprietor of the saloon denies that any fight was in progress and states that McDowell fell in the saloon, striking his head on a cuspidor. Such a wound as is described by the surgeon could not have been made by such a fall, however, and the persistent stories that he was struck seem to have some foundation.

It was first said that the man was from Somerset, but an Advocate telephone inquiry at that place failed to reveal the identity of such a man there. There is a veil of mystery about the whole affair and no reason can be assigned for keeping the matter quiet.

VERMONT WOMAN MUST HANG

United States Supreme Court Refuses to save Mrs. Rogers' Life and Gov. Bell Has Said Law Must Take Its Course --Woman Hangs Dec. 8.

(Bulletin.)

Washington, Nov. 27.—The Supreme court of the United States today declined to save Mrs. Mary Rogers, the Vermont murderess from the gallows. The District court of the United States for Vermont, which denied her application for a writ of habeas corpus, is sustained, and Mrs. Rogers' appeal was dismissed. As far as the Supreme court is concerned the woman must hang December 8. Governor Bell alone can save her, and he has repeatedly said that he will allow the law to take its course.

Winlock, Vt., Nov. 27.—Before the sun has set today Mrs. Mary Rogers will know if she is to suffer death on the scaffold for the murder of her husband more than two years ago. A decision from the United States supreme court is expected this afternoon to clear up if she has had a fair trial, and if her rights were violated by having a judge who tried her pass on this trial a year afterward, when occupying a more exalted position on the bench of his state. He sustained his decision.

The woman during the last three days has exhibited human emotion for the first time since her conviction. Sunday she passed almost on the verge of hysterics and sobriety were given her. Sleepless he tossed on his pillow since Friday night. Dream tormented and torn with conflicting hope and despair as she realized that her final hour was being weighed in the balance she has shown at the last that she is human and that after her faithful imprisonment 27 years she knows that she is face to face with death and that only the solemn court of last resort can save her from the noose. Governor Bell says he will not lift a finger for further reprieve and Sunday night Sheriff Peck received his final instructions for the hanging set for Dec. 8.

Thirteen persons will be witnesses to the state's vengeance. The gallows await their prey.

The attorney who prosecuted her inclines to the view that the supreme court will give her a new trial. Then she never will hang, some believe, as Bell will be out of office and a new legislature will come in. Her own lawyers say they merely hope. Disinterested lawyers say Bell may be in gross contempt of the court of last resort in anticipating its decree and discounting by preparing to execute one whose custody now is the care of the federal jailers.

This afternoon a dispatch from Washington announced that Mrs. Rogers must hang.

A YOUNG WOMAN WHO MAY BE QUEEN OF SPAIN.

Duchess Marie Antoinette of Mecklenburg-Schwerin is one of the numerous princesses selected by Dame Rumor as a bride for the youthful king of Spain, who seems to be taking plenty of time to choose from among the marriageable royal maidens of Europe. She is a handsome young woman of the blond type, which the Spanish monarch is known to admire.

SPANISH KING

Says That He's Not Engaged To Princess Ena of Battenberg

HE MET ONE DISAPPOINTMENT

YOUNG MONARCH SHOCKS HIS FRIENDS BY HIS FREE COMMENTS

"All Princesses are Lovely but I'm Not Engaged to Any," Says Alfonso.

Paris, Nov. 27.—In its account of the dinner given to the King of Spain by the Marquis de Mun, the Figaro says that a guest proposed the "health of the future Queen of Spain."

"Which" asked the king. "There are so many. If I am to believe reports, all Princesses are lovely; but I am not engaged to any, so far as I know."

The correspondent is informed on very high authority that the persistent and detailed dispatches from Madrid announcing as a certainty the betrothal of the King and Princess Victoria Ena of Battenberg are at least premature. There is one very serious objection to the match: it is being urged strongly upon the Queen-mother that Princess Ena is not of sufficiently high birth to be meet mate for the King. Her mother's royal blood scarcely atones for the relatively humble origin of her father, who was not royal but the son of a mercantile marriage and if the English people were revealed that one of their princesses should marry the poor and obscure Henry of Battenberg and could make insulting references to "the German band," much more ought the Spanish royal house to object to a line being contaminated by this inferior strain.

It is also remarked that Alfonso, though himself one of the richest of kings, ought to and desires to have as a queen a woman rich in her own right. The princess has very little money and there is no probability of the king being able to afford the wedding with good British style.

There was in Spanish court circles much objection to the Comaught marriage since the Spanish people certainly do not like an English queen. Landed families in Spain will certainly not be done up in a parcel at once—one for his sister and one for his aunt and one "more coming" for his mother. It is believed, to be good reason that Alfonso was not to be divorced and as he is not to be divorced from Princess Victoria Ena of Battenberg.

KING ALFONSO OF SPAIN.

desirable in the young king's eyes. The informant says Princess Ena has the backing of ex-Empress Eugenie.

Your correspondent's information from other sources is partially confirmed by the declaration of Senor Gullon, Spanish minister of foreign affairs, to the Echo de Paris that "absolutely nothing is settled."

When the Mother Superior of a Parisian convent expressed to King Alfonso the hope that he would be known as the most illustrious of his royal line, he corrected calmly with:

"Pray rather that I be known as Alfonso the Good."

Courteous convention having the force of law prohibits a foreign king on a visit from expressing a shadow of opinion on internal politics, but Alfonso shocked his entourage by exclaiming to Paul Doreville, his plebeian Spanish royal house to object to a line being contaminated by this inferior strain. It is also remarked that Alfonso, though himself one of the richest of kings, ought to and desires to have as a queen a woman rich in her own right. The princess has very little money and there is no probability of the king being able to afford the wedding with good British style. There was in Spanish court circles much objection to the Comaught marriage since the Spanish people certainly do not like an English queen. Landed families in Spain will certainly not be done up in a parcel at once—one for his sister and one for his aunt and one "more coming" for his mother. FIFTY PERSONS

Are Killed or Injured in Passenger Wreck in Massachusetts

DISASTER DUE TO A FOG

SIGNAL LIGHT ON REAR OF TRAIN WAS OBSERVED

Dozen or More Killed Outright and Several Were Cremated in the Wreck.

Lincoln, Mass., Nov. 27.—Eighteen persons were killed, 25 were seriously injured and probably a score of others cut and bruised in a disastrous railroad wreck at Baker's Bridge station, a mile and a half west of Lincoln, on the main line of Fitchburg division of the Boston and Maine railroad. The regular Sunday night express, which left Boston for Montreal by way of the Rutland system, crashed into the rear of an accommodation train bound for points on the Marlboro branch line, and which started from Boston at 7:15. Of the dead a dozen were passengers in the two rear cars of the Marlboro train. The other two were Engineer Barnard of the Montreal express and his fireman. No passenger on the express train was injured. Of those who lost their lives a number were apparently killed instantly in the collision, while others were either burned to death or died from suffocation.

Passengers from both trains, railroad employes and a number of villagers rushed to the wrecked cars and assisted many persons to escape. The flames made it difficult to reach some, who were alive, but who had been unable to free themselves from the mass. For the time it was necessary, to lay injured persons side by side with the bodies of the dead, until every effort possible had been made to rescue other victims.

A partial list of the dead is as follows: Eugene Barnard, engineer of the Montreal train; Fireman Lyons of the Montreal train; Anna Hillbridge, 5, Acton; Daniel Weatherbee, Acton; May Campbell, Maynard; William J. Barris, Maynard; three-year-old child of Mr. Barris; May Collins, Concord Junction; Nellie Sweeney, Concord; — Maganac, Concord; seven unidentified bodies.

The wreck was primarily due to thick weather, which apparently obscured signals set by the forward train, which at the time of the disaster was standing in front of Baker's Bridge station. The Montreal train, drawn by two locomotives and consisting of nine cars, crashed into the rear of the Marlboro branch local, demolishing the two rear cars. All of the passengers killed and seriously injured were in these. The passengers lived in Concord, West Acton, Maynard, Hudson, Marlboro and several smaller towns in the Assabet valley. None of the passengers on the Montreal train was seriously hurt, but the engineer and fireman of the leading locomotive were killed.

The wreckage caught fire and some of the passengers were incinerated. Few persons live in the vicinity of Baker's Bridge station, and no fire department was available so that the flames practically burned themselves out. The uninjured passengers and a number of train hands, assisted by villagers, went to the aid of the injured, and many persons were rescued. A special train was sent from Boston by the Boston and Maine management and reached here inside of half an hour.

BODY EXHUMED

Doctors Make Examination of James R. Branch Who Died on November 7.

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 27.—The body of Midshipman James R. Branch, Jr., who died Nov. 7 after a fight with Midshipman Minor Meriwether, whose trial by court-martial on charges that include manslaughter is proceeding here, was disinterred and an autopsy was held by a board of naval medical officers pursuant to orders of the secretary of the navy. The condition of the body was found to be such that those who made the autopsy will be able to answer questions that have arisen during the Meriwether trial as to the condition of Branch's heart and other organs prior to the fight.

Alfred Marney, 45 and Charles Toole, Jr., 23, both at Standard Mine No. 2 near Shaw Mine, were killed by a mass of falling slate.

Code of Honor at Annapolis

THE case of Midshipman Minor Meriwether, Jr., of the Naval Academy at Annapolis, has raised the query whether a false sense of honor prevails to a large extent among the young men in attendance at this institution. The United States Military Academy, like other academies where instruction for naval or military service is imparted, has many time honored traditions, and the conduct of students is often governed more by them than by the regularly adopted and published rules of the school. Midshipman Meriwether had a disagreement with a fellow student named James H. Branch, Jr. Meriwether is alleged to have insulted Branch, applying to him the epithets "sneak" and "coward." According to the code of honor said to prevail among many students at Annapolis, this necessitated a challenge from the person insulted. In former times the difference would have been settled by pistols or swords, but as dueling is not allowed in these days the fist fight, with referee, timekeeper and seconds, has been substituted. Meriwether belongs to the third class at the academy, and Branch belonged to the second. Meriwether thought he was being ill treated by Branch, his superior officer in the cadet organization, and took the matter up with his class.

It is said that the class to which Branch belonged directed him to challenge and that Meriwether's class directed him to accept the invitation to combat. At any rate, the contest was held in strict accordance with the unwritten rules of the code of honor, which, it is reported, is not only accepted by the students of the academy, but indorsed by the officers of the navy. These provide that the contestants shall fight stripped to the waist for twenty-eight rounds if able to stand up that long. When it is considered that matches between pugilists are usually limited to a less number of rounds than this and that even then the men are trained for weeks beforehand for the contest, the severity of a struggle in which two youths of less than twenty and without any training fight for such a length of time is apparent.

Branch received injuries from which he died two days afterward, and steps

A Bad Freight Wreck.

A broken axle on a Pan Handle freight train caused a bad wreck a few miles east of the city Saturday night about 6 o'clock, piling up several coal cars and blocking the track. The first train after the accident passed the scene of the wreck about 6 a. m. Sunday. No one was injured.

Wm. Jones Quite Ill.

Mr. William Jones, a well known resident of the Sharon Valley, was in town on Saturday with his wife. While on their way home in the evening Mr. Jones was taken with a convulsion, due to Bright's disease, with which he is troubled. He was brought back to the home of his sister, Mrs. S. J. Davis, on the Granville road, where he was attended to by Dr. Hatch. Later he had another convulsion, but is reported as being very much improved at this writing.

At Elizabeth Chapel.

Sunday was a day of deep religious fervor at Elizabeth chapel. The sermon in the morning by the pastor on the subject of "Christ's Prayer for Man" made a deep impression on the congregation. In the evening Mrs. Melia Abbott Ball of Columbus whose sweet singing in the churches of this city in former years is so well remembered by her hosts of friends, sang a solo accompanied by Mrs. Keenan. The crowded house, the deep spiritual significance of the sermon, the desire to help where help was needed, seemed to inspire Mrs. Ball to almost excel herself. "DEAD MAN'S HAND"

Dealt in Poker Game by One Who Tried to Beat It With Seven Cards.

Pittsburg, Penn., Nov. 27.—The "dead man's hand," aces and eights, a combination of poker cards which gamblers say was never beaten, held good again in a poker game last evening, but the man who held this hand lost his life, his head being completely severed from his body. The man who tried to beat the poker hand with seven cards and a hatchet escaped, with blood flowing from many knife wounds and is being sought by the police all over Western Pennsylvania.

Antonia Duvulko, a wealthy mill boss at Schoenberg's mills here, was the victim of the frightful murder at 8 o'clock last night. Leon Gillette was the murderer.

The fight occurred over a poker hand held in a game at 1829 Penn. avenue. There were six men in the game, and it had been going since early in the afternoon. Duvulko, who had a big lot of money with him, was a heavy loser and he seemed to be of the idea that Gillette was cheating him. About 8 o'clock Gillette dealt and Duvulko merely glanced at his cards, then was seen to turn pale. Throwing his hand down, face up, on the table it was seen to be aces and eights or "the dead man's hand."

The mill boss looked across at Gillette and said: "You're cheating; you have more than five cards."

With an oath Gillette tried to throw his hand in the discard, but Duvulko reached over and, grasping his wrist, shook the cards from his hand. There were seven cards, among them five queens, two of them being queens of clubs. Duvulko pulled a knife and made a slash at Gillette, cutting a gash across his forehead. Gillette jumped back and, grasping a keen-edged hatchet, came for Duvulko, and the fearful duel in the small gambling room was on. Gillette, who was a strong young fellow, forced Duvulko back with the hatchet and managed to get in a blow on his neck, almost burying the hatchet. Duvulko fell across the table, the blood pouring from his wounds, and Gillette hacked him again and again, severing the head from the body, it being held by but a small bit of skin when the police arrived. Gillette had been struck several times with the knife and escaped from the house with blood pouring from his wounds. He has not been captured.

CHRISTMAS TREES
Over One Million Will be Taken from The Sides of the Green Mountains.
Burlington, Vt., Nov. 27.—Over one million small spruce and fir trees will be taken from the sides of the Green mountains within the next few weeks to gladden the hearts of the youngsters of New York, and elsewhere at Christmas time. Contractors who make a business of supplying the trees are already in the state and have made large purchases. Because of the immense number that have been cut in the last few years an opposition to the industry has developed and at the last session of the legislature the matter was brought before the law makers by Mr. J. Hapgood of Peru, one of the leaders on the floor of the house. No action was taken at that time, but the discussion has been renewed. In speaking of the matter, Mr. Hapgood said: "About this time of the year there comes slyly into our back town communities agents from New York inquiring where young spruce trees can be found. Thoughtless persons direct them to farmers whose back pastures are growing up Dame Nature's most bountiful crop. Oftentimes these farmers are short of money and short sighted, and so for the paltry sum of one cent each they permit these vultures to select out the best developed as well as the most beautiful specimens, cut them off several feet above the ground, leaving the stub to take up space, absorb the nourishment of the soil and destroy the looks of the whole field."

MRS. MARY KEELEY DIES IN YARD
SUDDENLY CALLED WHILE OUT FEEDING HER CHICKENS ON SUNDAY.
Funeral Not Arranged but Will Probably Be Held at Church on Wednesday.
Mrs. Mary Keeley, aged 72 years, widow of the late Jeremiah Keeley, died suddenly at about 7 o'clock on Sunday morning, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. James Stankard, 130 Locust street.

Mrs. Keeley arose Sunday morning apparently in her usual health and started out to feed her chickens. Within possibly ten minutes, her daughter, Mrs. Stankard called her to breakfast and receiving no reply, started out after her when she was horrified to find her mother lying dead in the yard in the rear of the house. Mrs. Keeley had never complained of heart trouble, although her death is pronounced the result of a weak heart. The deceased has spent the latter twenty-five years of her life in this city at the home of Mrs. Stankard, where she died. She leaves three sons and two daughters, James J. of Jackson, Mich.; Michael T. of Richmond, Cal.; and Jerry D. of the firm of Bailey & Keeley in this city; also Mrs. Anna Gorman and Mrs. Jeremiah Stankard of this city. The funeral arrangements have not yet been completed, owing to the absence of one son, but it is probable that the service will take place at 9 a. m. Wednesday at St. Francis de Sales. Interment will take place at Mt. Calvary cemetery.

By this union three sons and three daughters were born, being Charles, Mary and Nesbitt and Miss Hattie Browne of this city. Mrs. Anna Andrews of Dennison and Miss Lottie Browne of this city. AGED MOTHER OF GIL C. DAUGHERTY DIES IN LANCASTER, OHIO, AS A RESULT OF AN INJURY ON SATURDAY.
Dress Caught Fire at Grate—The Funeral Will Probably Be Held on Tuesday.
Mrs. Catherine Daugherty, mother of Attorney Gil C. Daugherty of this city, died at Lancaster, Ohio, Sunday night as the result of burns sustained Saturday when her dress caught fire at a grate. A message from Lancaster gives the following account of the sad accident: Mrs. Daugherty was in the act of re-adjusting the ornaments on the mantel when her dress caught fire from the grate. Despite her 80 years she fought bravely to extinguish the flames and called to the housekeeper for help. Before the fire was put out her light colored garments were nearly all burned and her hands, face and back were painfully burned. She was also badly burned under one arm. Attorney M. A. Daugherty was in the act of arguing a case to the jury when the word reached him and he left at once for his home. Mrs. Catherine Daugherty was born in Perry county over 80 years ago. Her father was among the early settlers of that county. She was married to Philip Daugherty 52 years ago and resided with him on a farm close to New Lexington until the time of his death, which occurred eighteen years ago. Since his death she has made her home with her son, M. A. Daugherty, of Lancaster. She was the mother of seven children, three of whom died in infancy and four survive. Those living are John, who is a farmer in western Nebraska; M. A., a lawyer of Lancaster; William, who resides at Lancaster; and his official biographer of Fairfield county, and Gil C. of Newark. SEE "DAVID CORSON" AT AUDITORIUM.

Production Was Given at Local Theatre Saturday—It was Altogether Admirable.

Harry Dole Parker and his wife, Lottie Blair Parker, who dramatized the novel written by the Rev. Charles Frederick Goss, entitled "The Redemption of David Corson" were in Newark Saturday evening to witness the production of "David Corson." Mr. and Mrs. Parker came from New York city. Mrs. Parker is greatly interested in the success of the new play, which has been meeting with very hearty receptions ever since the first production, a few weeks ago. She and her husband have gone to Dayton, where the company plays Monday night. "The Redemption of David Corson" will be at the Southern in Columbus, Tuesday night.

The production was seen here Saturday afternoon and night. It is altogether admirable.

PUBLIC SCHOOL NOTES OF INTEREST

DAY NURSERY WHICH IS SOON TO BE ESTABLISHED WILL HELP SCHOOLS.

New Course of Study--Entertainment Nets $35--West End Bazaar is to Be Given.

The Day Nursery, which is soon to be established in Newark, will be of great advantage to the schools. Heretofore it has been the custom for mothers to keep their children out of school to attend to the babies while they went shopping or on other business. Now they can leave the little ones at the nursery where they will be well cared for. The rates will be very reasonable, five cents, for those that are able to pay. It would be a good plan for the teachers to request children to tell their parents about the nursery.

Riverside school is rapidly filling up with pupils. There are now 66 in the first grade. A contingent teacher, Miss Daly, has been assigned to this room for the present.

Prof. J. D. Simkins, superintendent of the Newark Public schools, has prepared a new course of study for the grades below the High school, which he will submit to the Board of Education for its ratification.

A number of the pupils have been unable to attend school during the past week on account of typhoid fever being in their homes.

Miss Edith Mackey, teacher in the North Fourth street building, who has been unable to attend to her duties for a week on account of sickness was back at her desk on Monday morning.

The stereopticon entertainment given last week under the supervision of Prof. Painter, in the High school chapel, proved quite a financial success, netting $35. Mr. Painter is a hustler and will probably receive money enough to continue his work in manual training.

The pupils of the West End schools are making arrangements to hold a grand bazaar at the West End building in the near future. The object is to raise money for supplies.

DENISON BOYS GET OUT BAND

HEIDELBERG FOOTBALL ELEVEN.

Granville Thanksgiving Services Conducted by Dr. Baldwin--College Town News.

Granville, O., Nov. 27.--On Saturday evening the victory of the Denison football team over that of Heidelberg Saturday afternoon on Beaver Field, was celebrated by the entire student body. The band was out doing more than ordinary duty and all sorts of other musical instruments were called into play. The air rang with jubilant yells and shouting of the results and score of the game and the performance wound up with an immense bon-fire on the campus.

On Friday afternoon from four until five o'clock, the young ladies of Burton Hall, Shepards College, entertained a number of young gentlemen of the university. The rooms where the guests were received were attractively decorated and chocolate and wafers were served by the hostesses during the afternoon.

The annual union Thanksgiving service will be held in the Methodist church on Thursday morning. The Thanksgiving sermon will be preached by Dr. Baldwin, pastor of the Baptist church.

There was a well attended meeting of the Y. M. C. A. on Sunday morning, with Captain Roubush as leader, who spoke on "How to Co-ordinate College Ambitions." The meeting was very interesting as well as profitable. Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Williams of Columbus, who have been visiting here during the past week, returned home Saturday.

Miss Ella Halliday of Zanesville, made a short visit here Saturday.

NEWSBOY ONLY FOUR YEARS OLD

BRIGHT LITTLE LAD IS MAKING A SUCCESS IN SELLING NEWS-PAPERS HERE.

Parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Dunn, Came to Newark Recently from Parkersburg.

Newark bears the distinction of possessing the youngest regular newsboy in the state of Ohio, if not in the United States.

The little business man is Homer Dunn, scarcely four years of age, the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Dunn, of 123 Elmwood avenue, who came here only a few months ago from Parkersburg, W. Va.

Homer, who attracts considerable attention by his bright, intelligent business methods, can be heard shouting on the streets with all the vigor of his older competitors, "Advocate or Tribune, two cents." And before the Newark papers are issued the little fellow hustles with the Saturday Evening Post and has succeeded in raising his sale of that paper, from an average of 14, to 25, which is considered excellent work.

Homer is cared for during his "working hours" by his older brother Harold, eleven years of age, who protects him and assists him when necessary.

The little fellow, by his cute and intelligent appearance is establishing quite a trade and has already made a record as a newsboy.

"I'M MAD" SAID SEVEN YEAR OLD

BUT GRANDMA SMILED WHEN CHILD SAID HE WOULD KILL HIMSELF.

Willie Harper of New Orleans Made Good His Threat by Hanging Himself.

New Orleans, Nov. 27--"Grandma I'm mad. I'm going to kill myself." Such was the remark Sunday of seven year old Willie Harper, who resided with his grandmother at 265 Iberville street. Old Mrs. Harper smiled at the childish remark and went about her household duties. Ten minutes later she found the child strangled to death at the back doorstep.

The boy had made good his threat. Taking a piece of French twine he went to the back door and proceeded to hang himself. Tying the cord around his neck, he then fastened one end to a hook in the door sill and jumped off the back steps. The thin cord cut deeply into the tender flesh and, being strong, strangled the boy to death.

When his scared grandparent discovered the body it was limp. Crying to her neighbors, she unfastened the cord. Life appeared to be extinct, and when a physician arrived he pronounced the child dead. The police declare it the most remarkable case of suicide on record in the United States.

HAIR TELLS CHARACTER.

Color of Hair Said to Indicate a Person's Temperament.

Many people believe that blonde, or light hair denotes affection and dark hair constancy. A person without hair is not devoid of character, far from it. The disposition of the average bald-headed man is to show such solicitude for the welfare of others, that he neglects himself. A germ causes baldness. Prof. Schouraud, of Paris, France, inoculated a rabbit with Dandruff germs, causing it to become totally bald in five weeks' time. To rid the scalp of these dangerous germs it is necessary to apply Newbro's Hepticide.

Destroy the cause--you remove the hair. Sold by leading druggists. Send the enclosed for sample to The Hepticide Co., Detroit, Mich.

TROOPS DESERT THE MUTINEERS

Brest Regiment, Repentant, Returns to Duty at Sebastopol.

SAILORS STILL HOLD FORT

Crews of Several Warships in Open Sympathy With the Revolutionists. Count Witte and Cabinet Discuss the Situation—Trouble May Spread Through the Army.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 27.—Though the mutinous Russian sailors at Sebastopol have not yet submitted, but on the contrary have received promises of support from the crews of the battleship Panteleimon (formerly the Kniaz Potemkine) and the cruiser Otchakov, and though they are in complete possession of "Admiralty Point," where the barracks are located, there were no disorders and the situation is regarded as much improved. The mutineers have been deserted by the Brest regiment, which marched off under arms to a camp formed by loyal sailors and sent a message to Vice Admiral Choukine asking his pardon and saying they were ready to return to duty.

The mutiny has created alarm in government circles, and no attempt is made to disguise the seriousness of this latest crisis. The army is the last prop of the government. Mutiny is contagious, and the epidemic of revolt which has attacked in turn practically all the units of the navy from Vladivostok to Cronstadt, it is feared, is destined similarly to spread through the army.

The sailors who mutinied at Sebastopol number about 4,000, and belong to various equipments of the 28th to 36th. Including the sailors on board the ships there were about 8,000 in Sebastopol when the mutiny occurred. The troops in the garrison consisted of the Brest and Bielostok regiments, with two battalions of artillery and one battalion of fortress artillery. The Bielostok regiment during the outbreak several weeks ago fired on the sailors, and at the admiralty no doubt is now entertained that the mutiny was the result of the carefully prepared work of revolutionary agitators, to whom the support given the mutineers at Cronstadt by the workmen of St. Petersburg offered a powerful weapon.

Count Witte called an extraordinary session of the cabinet to consider the situation. Grand Duke Nicholas Nicolaievitch, president of the council of the national defense, and commander of the imperial guard, was present, and this fact caused a revival of the rumor that the grand duke might immediately be appointed dictator; but it can be taken for granted that this step has not been decided upon, as it is plain that a dictatorship at the present juncture would be sure to precipitate an immediate armed revolution. Nevertheless, Count Witte's government, if it continues its present policy, will be powerless to cope with the increasing problems by which it is constantly confronted. The revolutionary tide subsides only to mount higher, and the extreme elements, convinced that the government must fall, are raising their demands proportionately.

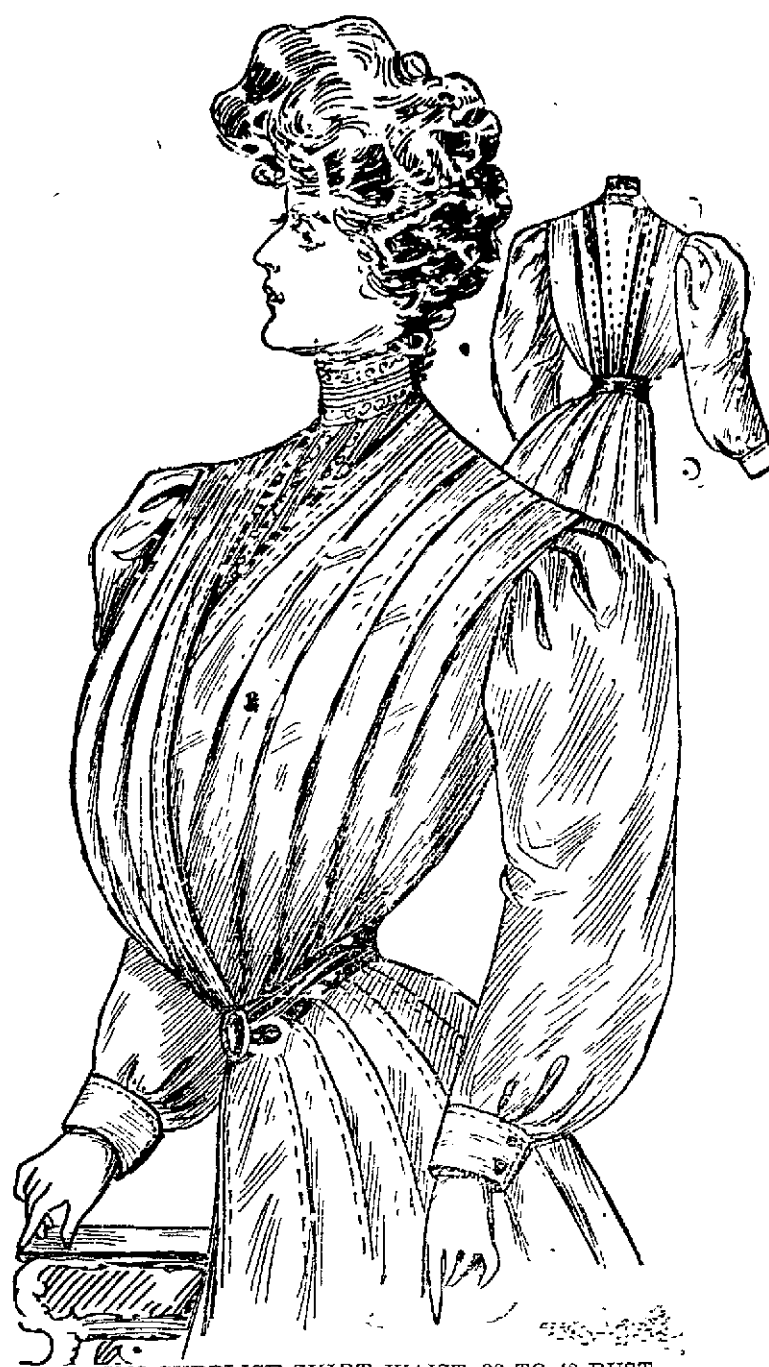

The only immediate measure the government is known to have decided upon is the enactment of a drastic law to punish persons guilty of inciting strikes, but this would only be likely to inflame the Socialists. The physical impossibility of holding elections in many provinces owing to the prevalence of agrarian disorders and the generally disturbed conditions, involving the postponement of the duma, which is sure to be misinterpreted, constitutes another danger and adds weight to the arguments of those who are urging on Count Witte that the only chance of restoring comparative tranquillity is to induce the emperor to sign a constitution guaranteeing the liberties promised in the manifesto. They declare that the choice lies between that and a dictatorship.

Strike Spreading.
Moscow, Nov. 27.—The strike here is spreading. Crowds of strikers are planing factories, private houses and state liquor shops. The governing committee of the bourse met and passed a resolution urging the government to take energetic measures to stop pillaging.

Revolt at Vladivostok.
Vladivostok, Nov. 27.—A number of Russian troops who were taken prisoners at Port Arthur, and who were recently returned here for enrollment in the local garrison, revolted, killing two of their officers and wounding five others. The reasons for the revolt are not known.

Burglars Surprised.
New York, Nov. 27.—Surprised in the act of breaking into a store in Harlem, five Italians exchanged a fusillade with a policeman, in the course of which one of their number was shot in the eye and mortally wounded. One of the others was captured and the others made their escape. The wounded man, who died soon after being taken to the hospital, gave the name of John Galla. The police say he was a member of the gang headed by the Italian known as Paul Kelly, in whose saloon a man was found murdered a few days ago and who since then has disappeared.

5203 SURPLICE SHIRT WAIST, 32 TO 42 BUST.
SURPLICE SHIRT WAIST 5203

The surplice shirt waist makes one of the latest developments of that altogether useful, desirable and satisfactory garment. This one is made with most becoming tucks at both front and back and is adapted both to the shirt waist dress and to separate use, but in the case of the model is made of one of the new claret red flannels with skirt to match, the chemisette being of tucked and inserted muslin. The effect is exceedingly charming and attractive to the looker-on while the waist has the inestimable advantage of allowing of frequent change of chemisettes which fact in itself means a sense of daintiness and personal comfort not to be obtained in any other way. There is very little blouse at the front that being a notable feature of these waists, but ample fullness below the stichings to provide soft and graceful folds. The sleeves are in regulation style and among the most comfortable that can be worn for dresses and waists of the simpler sort.

The waist is made with a fitted lining, which can be used or omitted as preferred, and consists of fronts and backs with the sleeves. The chemisette is entirely separate and closed at the back. When the lining is used the shoulder seams are closed separately, allowing of slipping the chemisette between the two, so that it can be easily and readily renewed.

The quantity of material required for the medium size is 3 3/4 yards 21, 3 1/2 yards 27 or 2 1/8 yards 44 inches wide, with 3/4 yards any with for the chemisette.

The pattern 5203 is cut in sizes for a 32, 34, 36, 40 or 42 inch bust measure. Send 10 cents to this office, give number of this pattern No. 5203, and state size desired. It will then be sent to you by mail postpaid. Be sure to write plainly and always give full address. Several days must be allowed for delivery of pattern.

SULTAN SEEKS MODIFICATION

Hands the Powers a Proposition Regarding the Reform Scheme.

ALLIES MAY NOT ACCEPT IT

Visit of the Turkish Foreign Minister Held to Presage the Early Submission of the Porte—International Fleet Arrives at the Island of Mytilene.

Constantinople, Nov. 27.—In ambassadorial circles here it is believed that the porte finally will accept the proposition of the allied powers. An indication of the yielding attitude of the porte is that the foreign minister, Tewfik Pasha, visited the British ambassador, Sir Nicholas R. O'Connor, and the Austro-Hungarian ambassador, Baron Von Calice, with the object of proposing a modification of the Macedonian reforms scheme by which the financial delegates of the powers in Macedonia should be appointed by the porte and designated as Ottoman financial councillors. It is doubtful whether the powers will accept this modification, but the position is more hopeful, as this is the first time any visit has been made between the porte and the ambassadors since Oct. 27, when the porte refused the request of the ambassadors for a collective audience of the sultan, with the exception of the German ambassador, Baron Von Bieberstein, who on three occasions during this interval visited Tewfik Pasha. The last conference between the ambassador and the minister was held Friday last, and it was a prolonged one.

The trial was begun here of a Belgian subject named Joris and of 15 Armenians on the charge of complicity in the attempt on the life of the sultan July 21 last. Sixteen other Armenians are being tried simultaneously in connection with the recent discovery of bombs and explosives. The publicity given to the trials at the present moment and a reference made in court to alleged foreign support received by the revolutionary Armenians lend color to the report that the authorities are trying to stir up public opinion against foreigners.

Allied Fleet Arrives.
Constantinople, Nov. 27.—The fleet of the allied powers has arrived at island of Mytilene.

PUBLICITY SOUGHT

In All Matters Relating to Campaign Contributions.

Washington, Nov. 27.—Perry Belmont, who is advocating a plan for publicity in all matters relating to campaign contributions, has appointed a committee to urge legislation on the subject. Mr. Belmont has sent letters to prominent men throughout the country expressing the opinion that the time has arrived to advocate by means of organization, national in character, the enactment in other states of such legislation on the subject as "embodies the results of practical experience of Missouri and Massachusetts." The letter says William J. Bryan, Judge Gray, Carl Schurz, James R. Garfield, Edward M. Shepard and Samuel Gompers are among those who have consented to act as members of the national committee now being formed.

Former Cincinnati Man.
New York, Nov. 27.—Abram E. Gwynne, formerly a member of the brokerage firm of Chauncey & Gwynne of Cincinnati, died at his home here. He was born in Cincinnati 52 years ago, and was a brother of Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt. For six months prior to his death he had been ill with paralysis.

Watterson's Statement.
Louisville, Ky., Nov. 27.—Editor Henry Watterson of the Louisville Courier Journal makes the following statement: "The Courier Journal wishes to state by authority and absolutely, and for all time, that Henry Watterson would not accept a nomination for governor of Kentucky or any other office, even in the event that it were unanimously tendered him and was equivalent to an election."

Charged With Murder.
Owingsville, Ky., Nov. 27.—At Beattyville Edward Kincaid and Ida May Williams were arrested, charged with killing the girl's week-old baby last December. It is alleged that Kincaid and the girl placed the child in a wagon and hauled it to Beattyville on a very cold day, when they accused Patrick Williams, the girl's father, of the infant's paternity. The exposure killed the baby, it is alleged.

Earthquake in Italy.
Rome, Nov. 27.—A slight shock of earthquake was recorded in all observatories of the kingdom. It was felt especially throughout the eastern central and southern parts of the country, but caused little damage except to the cathedral of Anagnino, in Apulia, in the extreme southeastern section, which suffered considerably. No lives were lost.

Mishawaka, Ind., Nov. 27.—Officers Conforen and Jarrett surprised two men in the Eberhart grocery, and when the men challenged the policemen Conforen opened fire. As a result Frank Hawkins is dead and Charles Phillips is seriously wounded. Hawkins was shot in the head and died two hours later. Phillips is suffering from four bullet wounds, but will recover. The latter claims that he and Hawkins came from Warsaw.

TWO KINDS OF PELICANS.

We have in America two kinds of pelicans, the white and the brown. Of the former, I can only say that it does not encourage the advances of the avian psychologist. Invasions of its strongholds on remote lake islets in Manitoba and in Nevada have resulted in their complete desertion by every white pelican old enough to spread a wing; and success here is doubtless not to be looked for so long as this snow-plumaged bird remains a shining mark for every roving rifle man.—From Frank M. Chapman, "An Intimate Study of the Pelican" in the December Century.

Ten thousand demons gnawing away at one's vitals couldn't be much worse than the tortures of itching piles. Yet there's a cure. Doan's Ointment never fails.

THE H. H. GRIGGS COMPANY

OHIO'S YOUNGEST CONGRESSMEN

THREE OF THEM LEFT COLUMBUS SATURDAY NIGHT FOR NATIONAL CAPITAL.

Eight Under Forty—Two Veterans, Grosvenor and Keifer In Ohio Delegation.

The three "kids" of the Ohio delegation in congress, as they have been called, Ralph Cole, of Findlay; Benjamin G. Dawes, of Marietta, formerly of Newark, and Edward L. Taylor, of Columbus, left for Washington together Saturday evening. These three young congressmen are all in the vicinity of thirty years of age—very young for men to have reached congress, and they are likely to be in a class by themselves so far as age is concerned, in the lower house of congress.

Attention has been called to the fact that the young man predominates largely in the Ohio delegation to the new congress which meets Dec. 1. There are eight members of it that are under forty years of age. They are in addition to the three mentioned, Grant Mouser, of Marion, W. A. Thomas, of Warren; Harry Bannon, of Portsmouth; Harvey C. Garber, of Greenville, and Nicholas Longworth of Cincinnati.

The delegation will also be distinguished for the reason that it will contain two old men of distinguished public service long since rendered—General Charles H. Grosvenor, 72, and General J. Warren Keifer, 68.

The latter comes back to a hall where he once distinguished himself after twenty years of retirement, having been once, like Galusha A. Grow and Mr. Banks, speaker of the house. Though now a first termor it is almost certain that Speaker Cannon will give General Keifer a chairmanship.

Do the right thing if you have Nasal Catarrh. Get Ely's Cream Balm at once. Don't touch the catarrh powders and snuffs, for they contain cocaine. Ely's Cream Balm releases the secretions that inflame the nasal passages and the throat, whereas common "remedies" made with mercury merely drive them out and leave you no better than you were. In a word, Ely's Cream Balm is a real cure, not a delusion. All druggists, 50c., or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren street, New York. mwf-tf

CLOTHING CAUGHT FIRE FROM TORCH

ROUND HOUSE EMPLOYE SERIOUSLY BURNED SUNDAY MORNING.

Clothing Was Saturated With Oil and Burned Fiercely—Hands Burned in Putting Out Fire.

Raymond Rowe, an employee of the B. & O. round house, was seriously burned early Sunday morning while working about an engine in the round house. Rowe was making some repairs on the air pipes of engine 726 when his overalls caught fire from a kerosene torch he was using.

Rowe made a desperate effort to extinguish the flames but his oil-soaked garments burned fiercely and before his fellow employees could rescue him, his right leg was burned from his ankle almost to his hip. His hands were badly burned in his efforts to extinguish the flames.

Bowers & Criss Brothers' ambulance was called and the man was removed to his home at First and Vandalia streets. Dr. Barnes was called and attended the injured man. He states that the burns are serious, but not necessarily dangerous. He will be confined to his room for several weeks.

BLAMES DOCTOR IN DYING BREATH

ANOTHER DEATH FROM OPERATION AT ZANESVILLE CLIMAX TO LONG SERIES.

Mrs. Henrietta Kennedy Implicates a Prominent Clay City Physician. Name is Withheld.

Zanesville, Nov. 27.—At a coroner's inquest over the remains of Mrs. Henrietta Kennedy, held here it was determined that death was the result of an operation. The woman came here from Pittsburg a few months ago and died Friday. Before her death she made an antemortem statement in which she implicated a very prominent local physician. Her home was in Canada, and arrangements were being made to remove her remains there for burial. This will bring to a climax a long series of similar scandals.

GOOD ROADS

Convention Adjourned the Meet January 6—Progress Made Here Saturday.

The meeting of the Good Roads Association held in the convention room of the court house on Saturday accomplished more towards furthering the construction of good roads in Licking county than anything ever before attempted. It had the effect of arousing a great deal of enthusiasm among those who were present at the meeting, and from now on "Good Roads" will be the watch word.

At the afternoon meeting of the association the committee on resolutions reported a number of resolutions, all of which were adopted with the exception of one, and the committee was continued until the next regular meeting which will be held on Saturday, January 6.

A resolution was adopted that the King method of smoothing earth and gravel roads be used.

During the meeting it was remarked that some people had said that the good roads movement had been gotten up in the interest of the automobilists. The fact was that at the meeting on Saturday not a single automobilist was present, notwithstanding the fact that the association adjourned to meet again on Saturday afternoon, January 6, at one o'clock, in the convention room of the court house and there after to meet on the first Saturday of each month.

DRANK FLUID TO KILL HIMSELF

ED WHITE, FORMER EMPLOYEE OF HOTEL WARDEN, ATTEMPTS SUICIDE.

It is Said That White Recently Received Some Unpleasant News From Home.

Ed White, aged 22, a former employee of Hotel Warden attempted suicide Saturday night, by drinking a quantity of antiseptic fluid. Dr. H. H. Baker was called and by hard work saved the life of the young man.

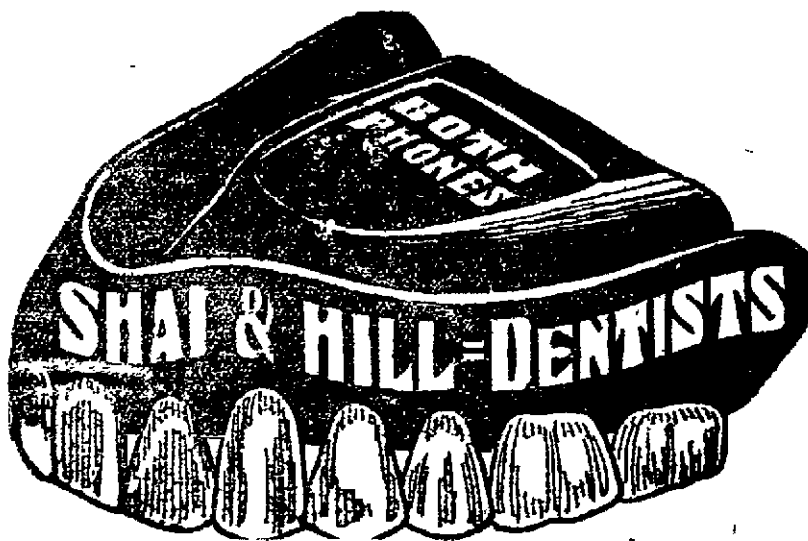

Several causes for the rash act of the young man are reported, but it has been impossible to ascertain the exact cause, as young White cannot be seen. It is understood, however, that White recently received some unpleasant news from his home.

Moscow, Nov. 27.—The Zemstvo congress in session here today adopted a resolution favoring the Jews who have been the objects of such terrible persecution in parts of the empire recently.
